ABOUT ME

Informatics and Telecommunications student at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens (Greece, EU). Maintainer of Udeler-Reborn, an open-source cross-platform application: I reproduce and fix user-reported issues, ship releases through GitHub Actions CI/CD, and document changes in clear release notes. Comfortable with Windows, macOS, Linux and Git. Available for on-call shifts and part-time engagement.

PROJECTS

[18/05/2026 – Current]

Udeler-Reborn: open-source cross-platform desktop application Open-source desktop application for Windows, macOS and Linux, built with TypeScript and maintained through public releases.- Diagnosed and fixed user-reported issues, including subscription courses not appearing and curriculum items displaying in the wrong order.- Added login support for Udemy Business accounts, including company SSO portals.- Automated builds and releases of installers for all three operating systems with GitHub Actions (CI/CD).- Documented every release with clear notes for users.
